

Hello everyone,

I hope you enjoyed trying out some of the activities with your grown-ups. I can't wait to hear all about what you have been doing. You may have been busy doing other things such as baking, painting and playing with your favourite toys. I'd love to hear all about that too.

This week I've been busy looking after the chickens, they are still laying eggs every day and I am enjoying having scrambled egg for my lunch.

Here are some different ideas for activities that you might like to do whilst you are at home with your families.

- I wonder if you can remember any of the Jolly Phonic Songs. You could have a look on YouTube with a grown up and see which ones you remember.

- You might like to draw or paint a picture and some of you could have a go at putting your own name on it. You were getting really good at that in nursery. A grown up might need to write it first for you to copy.
- As I have been walking my dogs, I've noticed lots of numbers in the village. Some are on gateposts, some are on doors, some are even on lamp posts. I wonder if you could do a number hunt if you are out walking, or even in your house. Some of you could even tell your grown up what number comes after that number or even before that number. That is a bit more tricky but it's good to have a challenge!

I hope you have lots of fun doing some of these activities. You could ask your grown up to put pictures in your sharing book or write about your adventures for us to share when we are together again.

Most important of all is that you are staying safe, healthy and having fun. I look forward to hearing about all your adventures.

I miss you all so very much.

From Mrs Glenwright
