

Wednesday 20th January 2021

Lesson Objective: To plan my Greek myth considering all the features.

★ Success Criteria ★		Me	Miss B
1	I can plan my Greek myth based on Theseus and the Minotaur
2	I can plan a myth considering most of the learnt about features
3	I can plan a myth considering all of the learnt about features

Red: Plan your Greek myth into the following boxes. The boxes on the left show you what happens in the original myth.

Theseus and the Minotaur
King Minos of Crete takes 7 boys and 7 girls from Athens every year to feed to the minotaur	1. Where does my story begin?
Theseus, King Aegeus' son, said he would fight the beast He sailed to Crete	2. Who offers to fight the monster and how do they get there?
He was given a sword and some thread by Ariadne	3. What helpful gifts are they given?
Theseus killed the Minotaur using the sword Escaped by following the thread	4. How does the beast get killed?
Theseus left Ariana on the island and sailed home. Choose your ending.	5. What happens at the end of the story?

Yellow and Green

Use Theseus and the Minotaur as a base to plan your own myth. If you are struggling with ideas, you can follow Theseus and the Minotaur but change little details

Characters - Make sure to include a Greek God/Goddess, a hero and a mythical creature. You could make these up or use characters you have been reading about	Setting - When and where is the story based?	The start - How does the story begin?
Events/dangers - What problems or issues are there?	What happens? - How does the story develop?	The ending - how does your story end? What could be the moral of the story?

