PSHE worksheet

Red, Yellow or Green

Write down the choices you should be able to make at home, at school and outside. What choices would you like to make in life and what choices do you think you would need help with?

My Choices

The worksheet features five large circles arranged in two rows. The top row contains three circles, each with a smaller circle at its top edge containing a label: 'At home', 'At school', and 'Outside'. The bottom row contains two circles, each with a smaller circle at its bottom edge containing a label: 'Next I'd like to choose...' and 'I'd like help with...'. To the left of the bottom-left circle is a line drawing of a girl with a bow in her hair, holding a pencil and writing on a clipboard. To the right of the bottom-right circle is a line drawing of a boy with his hand on his chin, appearing to be in deep thought.

You Can Touch Me Here

Colour the outline of the person to show where you are happy to be touched.

Green – for areas you are happy for anyone to touch.

Orange – for areas only those closest to you can touch (best friends and close family members).

Red – for areas that are private and just for you to touch.
