Literacy: Recount Writing on Visit to Murton Park

Task: Today in Literacy, I would like you to reflect upon our recent trip to Murton Park. Using the spider diagram below, I would like you to identify the different events/activities from the day. Once you have identified them please put them into chronological order in the form of a list. You will need this to help you to write your recount later this week. Try to provide as much information as possible. Try to include specific information such as times, location etc.
